

www.chambersnj.com

Member News:

October 2011

Continuum Health Alliance and Atlantic Health System (AHS) announced today that they are working together to offer primary care physicians in Northern New Jersey solutions to better serve their patients and communities in the changing health care landscape. Through their collaboration, AHS, the region's largest health care system, and Continuum, the state's premier health care management company, are developing and AHS affiliated primary care network of physicians, called Primary Care Partners.